SUMMARY

I'm currently studying a Certificate III in Fabrication at Signet Institute of Australia, building toward a hands-on trade career, and I bring a genuinely strong foundation in the qualities that underpin good fabrication work: precision, process discipline, and attention to detail. I also hold a Bachelor of Information Technology, which gives me an unusual but real advantage — I'm comfortable reading technical drawings and specifications, following structured procedures exactly, and documenting work accurately, all skills I've built through a year of independently designing and delivering production-grade software systems with zero margin for error. As Project Manager on a university capstone, I led a 5-person team to deliver a live platform for a real client, managing quality, process, and outcomes from start to finish. I'm a fast learner, reliable, safety-conscious, and genuinely motivated to build a long-term career in a hands-on trade.
